INSANITY DEFENSE FOR WIFE SLAYER

Relatives and Friends Are Rallying to the Aid of Young Porter Charlton

DIG LAWYERS ARE HIRED

And Youth who Killed His Wife in Italy Is Advised to Cease His Talking

HOBOKEN, N. J., June 24.—The preliminary examination of Porter W. Charlton, accused of the murder of his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Charlton, at Lake Como, Italy, was adjourned today by Recorder McGovern at the request of Charlton's attorneys. They explained that they had just been brought into the case and wanted time to familiarize themselves with it. There was no opposition from Prosecutor Garven and the case was set down for next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Recorder McGovern said that Charlton would be taken from police headquarters here to the county jail in Jersey City where he could be better cared for.

With his father and former friends rallying to his defense, Charlton was more cheerful today than when he was arrested after his arrival on the Princess Irene. Already plans for his defense have been made. He will not be allowed to plead guilty, although he declared he would. Instead a powerful group of lawyers will defend him. It is said he was insane when he committed the crime.

The first move made by Judge Charlton, father of the boy, on reaching this city from Washington, was to engage attorneys to defend his son. F. J. Fred Clark, a New York lawyer, who represented the elder Charlton, has secured former states attorney, Edwards, of Jersey City, to represent the youth while he is in the Hoboken jail. As soon as Edwards entered the case he issued an order that the rights of the prisoner were to be respected and that he was not to talk with anyone. He also warned the accused that he has done enough talking already.

Defense to be insanity. Although Edwards refused to talk about the case, it is certain that the defense will be insanity. Alienists will be engaged to examine the young man and his statement made to the police after his arrest yesterday will also be taken as indicating lack of mental balance.

The various divisions of the Italian law bearing on homicide correspond to some extent with those of the American law. Attorneys who are familiar with the Italian procedure declared today that if all the evidence against young Charlton is of the circumstantial order and if his confession of yesterday is admitted, he can hardly be convicted of any higher degree than manslaughter, the penalty for which would likely not exceed six years imprisonment. That, however, would be close to death sentence as the Italian prisons run largely to solitary indoor confinement and Charlton has tuberculosis.

Premeditated Murder. On the other hand Marquis de Montiglia, the Italian charge d'affaires of the Washington embassy, who is here to represent the Italian government in the steps against Charlton, said he believed the evidence all pointed to premeditated murder. He said that he was prepared to institute the formal proceedings for the return of Charlton to Italy without unnecessary delay. First the Italian consul general in New York will formally swear to a complaint alleging that Charlton is a fugitive from justice wanted in Italy for murder. This complaint will be filed with the United States commissioner in Hoboken, who will then set a date for a hearing on the charge.

Spends Restless Night. Policeman George Whitlock was detailed by Chief of Police Hayes to watch Charlton through the night, for fear he might attempt suicide. According to Whitlock, the heat of the early part of the night bothered the prisoner greatly. He would recline on his cot for a few minutes, then rise and pace up and down the narrow cell. He was very nervous and tried to talk with the guard, but the latter was under orders to say nothing. About 1 o'clock Charlton fell asleep and slept until 4.45. Then he got up and paced the cell until 6 o'clock when he said he was hungry. A liberal portion of ham and eggs, rolls and coffee, was sent in to him and he ate it all and asked for more.

Charlton welcomed the announcement that he would have a bath and stood under a cold shower for several minutes. He then dressed and asked if he could see the morning papers. They were supplied him and he read carefully everything printed about his arrest. He read his printed confession, but followed the instructions of his lawyer not to talk further about the case.

He was told to prepare to go to court where he was to be arraigned before Recorder McGovern on a charge of murder and said he was

THE PASSING SHOW

AIR LINER COINS MONEY FIRST DAY

Big Dirigible Completes Its First Commercial Trip, and Hundreds Are Crazy to Ride

DUSSELDORF, June 24.—Twenty passengers, each with a ticket for which he had paid $50 answered the call of "all aboard" today when the Deutschland, the gigantic sky liner, owned by the Hamburg-American Steamship company and the German Airship Stock company, set out on a 100 mile aerial cruise.

Within three hours she was back again, having completed the 100 miles without mishap, despite the fact that a stiff breeze was blowing on her return voyage, necessitating her anchoring in the open instead of in the big enclosure, which constituted the "station."

It was the first aerial trip on record for purely commercial purposes, the trip of the Deutschland on Wednesday, being only for invited guests. Dusseldorf will be used as the starting point and terminus for all of the Deutschland's short trips or trips of 100 miles or less.

The big air craft maintained an average speed of 33 miles an hour. The Deutschland was scheduled to make another 100 mile trip, weather permitting, with another set of twenty passengers.

Had the carrying capacity of the Deutschland been ten times as great she still would have been unable to accommodate those who wished to sail on her today. Those who sailed today bought their tickets more than two weeks ago.

GUTHRIE ASKS FOR GOVERNMENT AID

GUTHRIE, Okla., June 24.—A formal appeal to the United States government to recognize the struggle now on between Guthrie and Oklahoma City as sites of the state capital was made by the citizens of Guthrie today in telegrams sent to Attorney General Wickersham.

Judge Campbell, in dismissing the injunction sought by the Guthrie citizens in the federal court to prevent the removal of the state records to Oklahoma City, held that the silence of the government regarding the alleged violation of the enabling act precludes individual citizens from maintaining an action in the federal court.

The Guthrie attorneys gave immediate notice of an appeal to the supreme court of the United States.

The state books and records are still held at Guthrie as a result of the injunction issued by Judge Huston of the district court.

GLIDDENITES ON WAY TO WICHITA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 24.—The Glidden tourists got away from Oklahoma City early today in high spirits, the run from Lawton yesterday having been finished with less trouble than any day's run since the cars entered the southwest. The run today is to Wichita, Kan., by way of Enid, Okla., a distance of 216 miles. The long run may develop considerable trouble.

TIMBER LIMIT IS BURNED

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., June 24.—The timber limit of the F. Waverlaine company of St. Paul, Minn., 41 square miles in area, worth a million and a half dollars, has been destroyed by a forest fire. The camp of the Northern Construction company, which employs 600 men, has also been burned as well as that of the Rat Portage Lumber company, which also lost much timber. The total loss is several million dollars.

PORTUGAL CRISIS APPROACHES LISBON

LISBON, June 24.—An early culmination in the general unrest throughout Portugal will be precipitated, it is feared, today, by King Manuel's decision to inaugurate a practical military dictatorship in consequence of his failure to form a new cabinet.

Manuel has tired of the opposition of rival politicians and is determined to expel from parliament, by force if necessary, the rioters and obstructionists who have hindered the work of readjustment.

MAY PROSECUTE TRUST HEADS

Packers will Likely Be Arraigned as Individuals when New Indictments Are Drawn

CHICAGO, June 24.—"The investigation and prosecution of the beef trust will go ahead," declared Attorney General Wickersham, who is here today when asked, what effect Judge Landis' action yesterday in sustaining the packers' demurrer would have. Assistant Attorney General Oliver E. Pagin, who drew the indictment held by the court to be incomplete, will return to Chicago at once and set about the preparation of a new bill against the packers.

The attorney general refused to discuss the matter further and had nothing to say regarding the report that Judge Landis had intimated that the laxity with which the first indictment was drawn was an outgrowth of the squabble he had with the department of justice at the outset of the present investigation. At that time Landis criticized the department of justice for claiming credit for starting the investigation which he said he himself had ordered.

The attorney general expressed the greatest confidence in the ability of Pagin and said that while there was no doubt that the indictments were faulty, every man must at times make mistakes.

From statements made by the attorney general it appears likely that the packers will be prosecuted next time as individuals.

The indictments quashed yesterday did not attempt this. When asked point blank whether he would seek to prosecute them in this way, Wickersham said:

"It will all depend upon the evidence."

Referring to the railway rate bill, he grew enthusiastic. "It is an excellent law," he said, "for it gives the president power to learn the things it is necessary for him to know before he can intelligently recommend legislation."

37 DIE IN WRECK OF TROOP TRAIN

MEXICO, June 24.—Thirty-seven persons were killed and fifty injured when a troop train was wrecked on the National Railway in the state of Coahuila.

Were Enroute to Border. The troops were being transported to border towns where revolutionists and liberals have been smuggling in arms and ammunition and endeavoring to start a revolt.

There were 150 men, many with their wives and families, aboard the train. Several jumped when it was evident the crew had lost control of the cars but all others were either killed or injured, the dispatches say. Seven officers are reported among the dead.

The engineer and conductor of the train were arrested.

JANITOR LOCATED IN SOUTH TEXAS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—It was learned today that Alonzo P. Garitt, American consul at Nuevo Laredo, informed the state department in a dispatch yesterday that Wendling, the missing janitor, who is wanted by the Louisville authorities for the murder of little Alma Kellner, has been located between Nuevo Laredo on the Mexican border and San Antonio. This information was telegraphed to the Louisville authorities.

The search must be undertaken by Texas officials as the state department has no jurisdiction in this territory.

WORLD DISARMAMENT BY PEACE BOARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—The house joint resolution creating a universal peace commission was passed by the senate today. It has been frequently intimated that Col. Roosevelt will be made the head of this commission. It is proposed to perfect an international disarmament plan by which war will be prevented.

The life of the commission will run two years and $10,000 was appropriated for its expense.

WICKERSHAM ASKS FOR GOV'T CONTROL

Attorney General Says the Water Should be Squeezed from the Stocks of the Railroads

CHICAGO, June 24.—Declaring that the reckless issue of railroad stocks and bonds is as demoralizing to the public as lotteries, Attorney General Wickersham made an argument in favor of federal regulation and control of all railroad issues in an address before the State Bar Association here today. He contended that such federal control was an essential part of the government's supervision of interstate commerce and presented numerous quotations from supreme court decisions to support his arguments. He discussed at length the technical legal phases of the proposition.

"Economists and courts alike," he said, "have condemned the reckless issue of stock and bonds by railroad companies without adequate consideration which has become to be generally regarded as an evil, certainly as demoralizing in its effect upon the public as the carriage of lottery tickets from one state to another. The twenty years period of railroad receiverships and foreclosures, the reports of which fill many volumes of reports of decisions of the federal courts, testify eloquently to the practical effect of such unwarranted issues of securities upon the ability of railroad companies to properly perform their functions as instrumentalities of interstate commerce, while the utterance of stock for inadequate or fictitious consideration has furnished the opportunity for the most irresponsible and speculative control of these highways of commerce and has resulted in the injury which always follows a control of poverty by those who have no real investment in it."

Not For Public Good. "Such control, as experience demonstrates, will not be generally exercised in the interest of the road and to insure such safe conservative management as necessary to meet the requirement of the public by the proper discharge of the obligations imposed upon the carrier by law. On the contrary it is almost inevitable that such control be employed for purely speculative purposes and to secure immediate profit to those in temporary control. It is this public aspect which lends force to the conviction that 'watered' and 'bonus stock' is one of the greatest abuses connected with the management of corporations and it is this effect upon the fitness of the carriers to perform their duties under national legislation that requires and justifies federal supervision and control of the subject."

Control Constitutional. The attorney general argued that legislation to secure such control was plainly within the constitutional power of congress. He pointed out that the extent of the obligations which a carrier might incur had a direct effect upon the determination of the reasonableness of transportation rates and that the work of the interstate commerce commission would be greatly facilitated, if, before stocks and bonds were issued, the consideration therefore were ascertained by the commission to be full and adequate.

"The great arteries of communication," he concluded, "can be properly regulated in the public interest by a central national power; which should be exercised to correct every evil of a public character."

MEXICANS ALL IN BATH TODAY

EL PASO, Texas, June 24.—This is San Juan's day when everyone in Mexico takes a bath. Natives who have shunned the bath tub for months invariably lave their bodies on San Juan's day and throughout the republic the poorer classes of people are bathing in brooks and streams where bath tubs are not available. The Mexican revolutionists have also marked today for starting the uprising or for "giving Mexico a bath of fire" as they call it. Much of the recent activity of the government troops along the border states was in preparation for today. Up to noon, however, nothing had happened in the way of an uprising.

COMMISSION HAS NO ALASKA POWER

The Ruling Says Commerce Body Cannot Take Jurisdiction Over Transportation There

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—The interstate commerce commission today decided it has no authority or jurisdiction in Alaska, holding that Alaska is not a territory of the United States in the sense that phrase is used in the act regulating commerce. The decision relieves the Morgan-Guggenheim railroad and ship lines in Alaska of any supervision by the commission.

The decision of the commission that it has no jurisdiction over transportation in Alaska is based upon the failure of congress to establish a legislation form of government there. The decision says:

"While it is frequently loosely referred to in the statutes as territory of Alaska, it has never been enacted into a territory, created or otherwise constituted a territory of the United States as have the organized territories. The act creating a civil government for it expressly and in precise terms designated it as the 'district of Alaska' and it is so designated in all other federal legislation where accuracy of expression is required."

The commission divided 4 to 3 on the question, Commissioners Clement and Lane dissenting from the majority opinion.

TAFT TRIES TO PATCH DIFFERENCES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—President Taft tried today to patch up the difference between the house and the senate in the reclamation bill.

When the house voted $20,000,000 to complete reclamation projects it was provided that the money should only be available on projects approved by army engineers and then by the president. The senate gave the executive greater freedom. In conference the matter has developed a snag.

President Taft had the conferees at the White house today and is trying to pave the way in the house of the senate amendment.

"STEEL" DALZELL IS SAVED BY COURT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 24.—Representative John Dalzell won his fight today to prevent the opening of ballot boxes and a recount of the vote in the recent republican primaries, when Judge Cohen made permanent an injunction obtained by Dalzell's lawyers restraining the county commissioners from making the recount. It is probable that Dalzell's opponent, Robert J. Black, will appeal.

ORDER PROBE OF THE THIRD DEGREE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—The senate today adopted a resolution by Senator Gore, Oklahoma, instructing the special committee detailed to investigate the application of the "third degree" by judicial and police authorities and to inquire into the alleged cruelties perpetrated during the Creek Indian town lots sale.

GORE CHARGES BRIBERY ATTEMPTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—Senator Gore this afternoon charged that an attempt had been made to bribe him in the interest of a syndicate of lawyers who are seeking to enforce Indian contracts that would yield them a fee of $3,000,000 at the expense of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians.

END COTTON CASES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—The famous cotton leak cases came practically to a close today, when pleas of guilty were entered by Moses Haas of New York City, and Frederick Peckham of Cincinnati. Haas was fined $6,000 and Peckham $5,000 by Justice Gould in the district criminal court.

BROWNE CASE TO THE JURY TODAY

Judge McSurely Reads His Instructions Late in the Afternoon After Arguments

CHICAGO, June 24.—The case of Lee O'Neill Browne, charged with corrupting Legislator White to secure the election of U. S. Senator Lorimer, is expected to go to the jury at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Testimony Sufficient. CHICAGO, June 24.—Realizing that his fate will probably be settled before nightfall, Lee O'Neill Browne accused of bribery in connection with the election of United States Senator Lorimer, appeared to be somewhat nervous when he arrived in court today at an earlier hour than usual.

State's Attorney Wayman began his closing address when court reconvened.

"The state's attorney is not on trial here today," said Wayman, "although you may have been led to think so by the arguments of the three attorneys for the defense. It is a common practice for lawyers in a criminal case to attack the prosecuting officer instead of trying to defend their client."

"Link, Beckmeyer and White have testified to the guilt of Browne and there is nothing left for you gentlemen of the jury to do but return a verdict in accordance with that evidence."

Wayman referred to Attorney Erbstein's characterization of White as "a modern Judas" and said that if counsel for the defense knew the Bible as well as he would have the jury believe, he would have read them the book of Samuel about Job.

Truly a Judas. "Judas was bribed by the chief priest, just as White, Link and Beckmeyer were bribed by the chief priest," declared the prosecutor. "A great deal of stress has been laid by the defense on the treachery of White," he continued, "His offense was simply disloyalty to the man who bribed him. If a man plotted to overthrow the government and failed to find accomplices who would not stand pat, he would not be entitled to sympathy, would he?"

Wayman denied the contention of the defense that Browne was "a friend of labor" and referring to the tears which streamed down the face of Attorney O'Donnell while he was addressing the jury said:

"I never before saw so much hypocrisy as there has been in this case."

The Color Scheme. "You cannot make White blacker by painting Browne white and you cannot make Browne white by painting White black," said Wayman. "I told you before that both were black. Let White be black as hell and it will not make Browne white."

White's threats and boasts do not count for anything. The fact that Browne was in St. Louis on June 24 does not count for anything in itself, taken in connection with White's testimony it is very significant. It is also significant that when Browne registered at the Southern hotel he did not sign his name as usual, 'Lee O'Neill Browne,' but signed it 'L. O. Browne,' in an attempt to conceal his identity."

Wayman will conclude his argument soon after 2 o'clock and then Judge McSurely will read his instructions to the jury and it will take the case.

Court Instructs Jury. When Prosecutor Wayman concluded his argument, Judge McSurely gave his instructions to the jury.

He explained the defense was that Browne did not enter into a corrupt agreement with White and that he did not pay White $550 or any other sum. He cautioned the jury that before Browne could be found guilty two things must be established beyond a reasonable doubt.

That on June 16, 1909, in the Briggs house at Chicago Browne gave White $550, and;

That this sum was given because White voted for Lorimer because of a corrupt agreement entered into between Browne and White.

SUGAR FRAUDS ON ISLAND ALLEGED

Resolution Passed Today, Directs Investigation of the Trust's Operations There

WICKERSHAM SANCTIONED

He Rendered a Decision Desired by His Former Law Partners and by Mr. Taft's Brother

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—Charges of scandal in the administration of the public lands of the Philippine Islands are to be investigated by a congressional committee. The house committee on insular affairs today favorably reported to the house a resolution providing for such an investigation and authorizing a subcommittee to visit the Philippines.

The resolution calling for the investigation was introduced by Representative Martin (D., Colo.) who has been opposing the sale of Philippine friar lands to the sugar trust. Martin said that the adoption of his resolution by the committee was a complete surprise.

His charges allege that the sugar trust, through E. L. Poole, leased a large tract of land in the Philippines and that the deal was made possible through decision of Atty. Gen. Wickersham requested by the firm of Strong and Cadwalader, of which firm the attorney general was a former member and Henry W. Taft, the president's brother, is the present head.

ELOPERS PAWN JEWELS FOR AID

CHICAGO, June 24.—The mystery of the deserted automobile found here in an alley which for a time was believed to have been stolen by the Wauegan diamond robbers, was cleared today when Helen Deppert, 16 years old, and Nellie Kopper, 17 years old, told the police that they eloped by the machine from Cincinnati with Meredith Groves and Walter Quitman. The girls are being held pending the receipt of advice from their parents.

The two young men have not been found.

The girls said they came here a week ago in the automobile which belongs to M. F. Freiberg of Cincinnati. The boys' money was exhausted before they arrived here and the girls pawned their jewelry to buy gasoline at Indianapolis and at Shelbyville, Ill.

The youths disappeared three days ago, the girls said.

RECALL GORST FROM CONTROL OF EGYPT

MANCHESTER, England, June 24.—Exclusive cables to the United Press two weeks ago to the effect that England was considering a change of administration in Egypt are confirmed today by the Manchester Guardian.

In order to make it appear, however, that the contemplated action is in no way influenced by Roosevelt, it is said that Gorst tendered his resignation before the Guild Hall speech.

WISCONSIN NEWS

PROGRESSIVE
IDEES SPREADING

Wisconsin Sets the Pace,
and Other Western States Adopt
the System

MADISON, Wis., June 24.—"This change in the nature of the Wisconsin legislature, due, of course, to the 'progressive program,' means much, not alone to the state but to the country at large," says Rodney A. Elward of Casterton, Kan., formerly private secretary to Congressman H. B. Dahle of Wisconsin, in discussing the remarkable change brought about in ten years in the Wisconsin legislatures. "For Wisconsin now leads in the development of economic legislation, as for a generation she has led in educational evolution. Kansas, Nebraska and other western states are slowly adopting the Wisconsin system. La Folletteism, under whatever name you may call it, is spreading, like the abolition sentiment did a generation ago. Wisconsin, through its remade legislature, is setting the pace in remedial legislation. Slowly other states, getting primary election laws as a means, are following its lead."

In this week's issue of La Follette's Weekly Magazine, Mr. Elward finds a striking contrast between the Wisconsin legislature of ten years ago and today. Formerly the legislature was composed of men "of limited knowledge of public affairs, often astonishingly ignorant." Today the membership is composed of bright, intellectually active, and apparently independent men, largely graduates of the university. On asking for the reason for the length of the recent sessions of the legislature, I was informed by one of the members that it was because it was impossible to "line 'em up" on important measures; they were so independent. Ninety days used to be about the length of a session. That was possible because the orders regarding each measure were sent from the powers in Milwaukee, the members were told how to vote, they voted as told, and went home."

The pictures of ten years ago and today as described by this secretary of one of the leading politicians in the state at that time, is a striking contrast of darkness and light. In describing the sessions of a few years ago, Mr. Elward says: "Nowhere in the world, I believe, can so clear an example of the political revolution which is slowly taking place in our country be so clearly measured as in the Wisconsin legislature of today compared with those of 1895-1900. Gone are most of the characteristics of the old days, when free bars were run in the rooms of the corporate lobbyists in the Madison hotels. Inconceivable as it may seem to one who has been ten years gone, the very lobby itself has faded. Now the men elected to the legislature seem actually to run that body. Ten years ago, corpulent, suave and domineering men, employees of the railway, brewing, street railway, and other companies from Milwaukee, managed the legislature. Railway passes used to be for sale at very low prices by the clerks about the legislature. Free drinks were nightly dispensed at the hotels in the rooms of these lobbyists, till the barkeepers of Madison complained that their trade was seriously hurt. Sometimes free bars were maintained in committee rooms in the capitol itself."

"Gone are the wild nights, when at the evening sessions of the lower house, those who would not vote against a measure which was being killed by the lobbyists, were gotten as drunk as possible, so they could not know how their vote was being counted. No longer does the fat lobbyist for one of the great railway companies occupy a member's seat, vacated for his use by the member, and direct the deliberations of the assembly by notes taken about the chamber for him by pages."

DAVIDSON WILL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 24.—That it is now too late for Governor James O. Evidence is accumulating that E. T. Fairchild has the "Taft" republican support. He conferred with Mr. Connor Wednesday, and his men are frequently seen in the "Taft" republican headquarters at the Plankinton house.

S.S.S. CURES
BLOOD POISON

Every symptom of Contagious Blood Poison suggests a deeply poisoned condition of the circulation. No portion of the body is free from its contaminating influence, and its blighting effects are even stamped on innocent childhood if the ancestral blood is not rid of the infection.

Contagious Blood Poison begins in an insignificant manner, usually the appearance of a tiny pimple or sore being the only outward evidence of its presence. But down deep in the blood the treacherous virus is at work and in a short time the victim finds himself affected from head to foot. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, yellow blotches disfigure the skin, the glands of the groin swell, and often the hair and eyebrows come out.

The only possible way to cure Contagious Blood Poison is to remove the cause from the blood. Mercury, Potash, etc., are often used with the idea that such strong treatment will kill the germs and thus produce a cure; but this is a mistaken idea—THE GERMS CANNOT BE KILLED; THEY MUST BE REMOVED FROM THE CIRCULATION. This is proven by the fact that there are thousands who took the mineral treatment for months, or even years, and when it was left off found the poison was still in the blood.

The ability of S. S. S. to cure Contagious Blood Poison comes from its blood purifying properties. It goes into the circulation and REMOVES every trace of the poison, makes the blood pure and healthy, and leaves no drops of the trouble to break out later on, or to be transmitted to innocent offspring. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, each of which has a direct and specific effect in purifying the blood. S. S. S. is Nature's blood purifier, scientific and sure in its action, and so valuable are its tonic effects that the entire system is left in fine physical condition. Home Treatment book sent free.

THE HELPING HAND—YOURS

The "turn of a phrase" by the blacksmith who, upon missing certain articles from his shop, posted a bulletin inscribed, "God helps those who help themselves, but God help
those found helping themselves
around here," in no way affects the truth of the proverb. Its meaning,
perhaps, is not that literally conveyed
by the language. Those who call for aid without helping themselves
generally fail, and those who do help themselves quite as uniformly succeed. Effort brings success, and he who with faith and optimism exerts
the faculties by supplying him which God has been his helper, surmounts obstacles and wins his way to triumph.

If mythology as she is taught by
"Dressmaking at Home" may be believed, Jupiter had that same proclivity for "helping those who help themselves," but the magazine tells how, when a wagoner whose vehicle
was stuck in the mud called upon the grizzled patriarch of the ancient deities for aid, he was told to "put his shoulder to the wheel," and lo! his obedience brought the desired result.

Elaborating upon this myth, the publication proceeds to preach a well advised philosophy to the victims of a do-nothing pessimism. "Unfortunately," it observes, "we are too ef-
ten apt to grumble and complain
when anything goes amiss with us;
to imagine the bottom has dropped
out of the universe, and everything is going to the bow-wows, instead of pushing the trouble to one side or rising superior to it. No bogey ever scared the person who boldly walked
up to it, nor is any trouble too grievous
to be borne if we only have the courage to laugh it away. There is little use in sitting down and bemoaning our fate, and asking "What shall I do?" The answer and the help must come from within. We must cultivate the habit of self-reliance
if we really desire to better our condition, for few of us realize, until we make the effort, how much of our welfare or otherwise depends upon ourselves.

"It is true that, in some instances,
adversities and misfortunes seem to crowd upon us, and we may seek in vain for the reason why we are made to suffer; yet, although we be
not the actual cause of our troubles,
we can minimize their effects, and
defy them to destroy our happiness.
Suffering of any kind was never
made lighter by being mourned over,
for the more we think of it and
grieve or worry about it the harder
it becomes. If we calmly ignore our troubles and look around for sunshine, be sure we shall not fail to find it.

"What good does it do to hurl in-vectives at the weather man if it
rains or storms when we are praying for fine weather for our outing? How much better it is to change our plans
and enjoy our holiday in the house
and let the elements outside do their worst. All the grumbling and complaining we may crowd into our lives
will not add one minute's true happiness or even peace, and all the cries for help are simply so much effort wasted. We must uprose, put on the armor of self-reliance, assert
our manhood or womanhood, and our troubles will vanish into nothingness
like the mists of morning. It is true that sympathy and sometimes aid are very welcome, but usually they only partly ease our trouble. We must rise superior to it if we wish to overcome it, and having removed the darkness of despair, the sunshine of a greater happiness will gild our lives."

THE DEATH OF DOGMA

The Saturday Evening Post hits
a much exposed nail a terrific rap
on the head in the following editorial:

"President Taft's latest statement
of his purposes, in a recent magazine, makes it clear once more that,
when it comes to the trusts all political parties except the Socialists, are at sea in the same boat. They see the same problem and propose
to deal with it in the same way.
This problem arises from the long-
continued, steady drift toward monopolistic combinations. Regular Republicans, insurgent Republicans,
and Democrats propose to handle it
by checking the drift—breaking up
monopolistic combinations that now exist and preventing new ones. We think this program utterly futile,
partly because the country has been
following it for twenty years, during which time ever larger and more powerful combinations have been formed. It is only in respect to railroads that the country has made
any progress whatever in coping
with monopolistic combinations; and
with regard to the country's progress in that particular, President Taft says, 'I am utterly opposed to socialism; but in the powers given
the government to fix rates it must be admitted that, in our relation to railroad corporations, we have gone
a long way in the direction of socialism.'"

"In other words, then, it is only
by being 'socialistic' that we have had any success whatever in dealing
with monopolistic combinations; and
if the 'socialistic' way is the successful way, why doesn't somebody propose to follow it further? Is it because we are frightened at a word?
"Factory inspection and child-labor laws are socialistic, also, but we do not hesitate to adopt them nor does adopting them make us converts to the whole Socialist platform.
We don't believe there will be an end of the trust problem without an Interstate Commerce Commission
having jurisdiction over industrial combinations, and whichever party
first frankly adopts that 'socialistic'
expedient will probably score an advantage."

This shying at the word "socialist" to which reference is made, is
a faithful illustration of a trait of which the Post rightly accuses the American people. We have seen the word "populist" defeat William Jennings Bryan in campaigns in which he fathered issues that when dubbed
"republican" by Theodore Roosevelt
made that statesman the nation's idol. Republican "insurgents" are today being given a political coat
of tar and feathers for voting for "democratic" measures, regardless of the merit of those measures.

The Post is right. Elections have been turned, human rights lost, a nation humiliated—all because of superstition attaching to a word
against which prejudice has been created, although the thing to which
that word is applied would, in the
abstract, win popular approval.

There are signs, however, that
light is breaking upon the people,
and that we shall soon emerge from
the cloud of a foolish intolerance
and prejudice. The growth of the independent vote evidences our deliverance. Insurgency forecasts a new emancipation proclamation. The cry of "party regularity" is but a distress signal flung out by an organization buttressed by nothing
more substantial than that precedent, or more consistent than dogma. Civilization is advancing to a better level.

The Chautauqua's best friends are the community's best people. Are you in?

SPOTLIGHTS

SINGER DISLIKES PUBLICITY

A prima donna who doesn't like
to talk about herself, who has no
whims, no fads, no vagaries, who isn't stage struck, who doesn't like publicity, who isn't paralyzed with fright on the first nights, who does not gush over the "dear public" and who laughingly declares that she isn't temperamental—that is what an interviewer learned about the charming Louise Taylor of the night-
gale voice who is appearing at the Majestic this week with Yberri, the dancer.

"I don't care to be interviewed,"
the singer said gently as if to soften the blow. "It is busy work singing every night and one must have some time for sleep and exercise."
"And to diet and practice and take care of your throat," added the
reporter in a knowing manner.

The singer laughed. "I don't diet," she declared. "I have no
fads about eating or anything else.
I am a perfectly healthy and normal person. I suppose I haven't any temperament. One should be man-gous, impossible and hard to manage when one has temperament. I believe, I am not nervous on the first nights and what the 'dear public' thinks makes no particular difference to me just so that I get my salary."

The reporter was beginning to get frightened and fidgeting about
sought other means to make the fair
singer talk. He was just beginning to get her opinion about the much
mooted question about prima donnas
having large families and the deleterious effect of the matrimonial
stage on the voice, when the bell
rang and with a gracious adieu, Miss Taylor swept from the room to break
forth in sweet melody upon the air
of the theater and to be greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience
whose opinions of her, the singer
had just confessed, were immaterial.

He Stopped

A Philadelphia man who finds
much amusement in playing rag-time
melodies on the piano, received a rude shock one evening last week at the hands of his daughter, a sweet
little miss of some fourteen years.
It was warm and the house was wide open when the fond parent sat down
at the piano and began "pawing the ivories" with unusual ardor. While he was playing his daughter came into the room with a companion.
"Daddy, stop playing," she said.
Somewhat surprised, the father
wanted to know why he should cease entertaining himself. The little girl was not inclined to explain. Finally she said, "Why, the neighbors
have a lot of company." "Is that all?" commented daddy, with fine
scorn. "Well, if they don't like my playing they can close their windows," and he attacked the piano
with renewed vigor. "Yes, daddy,"
pleaded the daughter, as she slid
over to her parent and put her arm around his neck, "they'll think it was I playing." That settled it.
He stopped.—Buffalo Commercial.

A worker in the Salvation Army
tells the following story:

"A down-and-out beggar came along an uptown street the other day where I was getting ready to hold a meeting. The man looked pretty much up against it, and I watched him to see what he would do.

"He approached a bystander,
shamefacedly, and muttered something. The man asked him to repeat it, and I heard the beggar say:
'Please, sir, will you give me 10
cents for a bed?'
"Certainly, certainly," the man
replied, taking a dime from his pocket. 'Where is the bed?'

A Horrible Motive

Edward H. R. Green, the son of the richest woman in the world, is a bachelor.

"The reason why I am a bachelor,"
said Mr. Green to a St. Louis reporter, "is that I'm so big that I can't disguise myself sufficiently to pose
as a poor man. In my own person I'm afraid of being married for the wrong reason."

"I'm afraid lest, like the lady with the doughnuts, I may be the victim
of ulterior and insulting motives."
"The lady I refer to, after assisting a tramp, received another visit
an hour later from the same man."

"Madam," he said, "you gave me
three doughnuts a while back. Would you mind adding another one to make it four?"

"Gladly," said the lady, all smiles,
and she wrapped a doughnut in a newspaper and handed it to him. "So
you like my doughnuts, do you?"

"No, madam, it ain't that," said
the tramp. "Me and some friends
down in the holler wants to have a game of quots."—Minneapolis Journal.

Quick Improvement

Traffic Manager—We are having
no end of trouble with the public.
Sir, about those old dark yellow carriages. Everybody says they bump so rightfully in comparison with the new light yellow ones, which, of course, run very smooth.
Chairman—We must attend to this matter at once. Have all the old carriages painted yellow immediately.

The Major's Value

Gen. W. H. Lemon of the Grand Army of the Republic was recounting
at a dinner at Lawrence, Kan., tales
of the civil war.

"Major Bunks," he said, smiling,
"was a pompous chap. The boys
had a good deal of fun over his exchange."

"It seems that on a very dark night a stalwart confederate took the major prisoner. This fact, together with the prisoner's return to camp,
was signaled to headquarters terribly."

"Major Bunks, captured during night march, exchanged for two plugs
tobacco."—Minneapolis Journal.

G—H—E
Goose Girl

By HAROLD MCGRATH
Copyright by Bobbe-Merrill

"Truly we are becoming socialists," said the duke, appealing to Herbeck, who replied with his usual
grim smile.

Gretchen was ushered in. Her throat was a little full as she recognized the three most important persons in the grand duchy. Outwardly she was composed. She made a curtsy to which the duke replied
with his most formal bow of state.
The sparkle of amusement was in his eyes.

"The little goose-girl," he said
half audibly.

"Yes, Highness," Gretchen's face
was serious and her eyes were mournful. She carried an envelope
in her hand tightly.

"Come to me, Gretchen," said the princess. "What is it?"

Gretchen's eyes roamed undecidedly
from the duke to Herbeck.

"She is dead, Highness, and I found this letter under her pillow."

It was Herbeck's hand that took the envelope. But he did not open it at once.

"Dead?" Hildegard's eyes filled.
"Who is dead?" demanded the duke.

"Emma Schultz, father. Oh, I know you will forgive me for this deception. She has been in Drel-berg for a month, dying, and I have often stolen out to see her." She let her tears fall unrestrained.

The duke stared at the rug.
Presently he said: "Let her be buried in consecrated ground. Wrong or right, that chapter is closed, my child, and I am glad you made her last moments happy. It was like
you. It was like your mother. What is in the letter, Herbeck?"

Herbeck was a strong man; he was always far removed from tears;
but there was a mist over the usual
clarity of his vision. He ripped down the flap. It was only a simple note to her serene highness, begging her to give the enclosed bank-notes to one Gretchen who lived in the Krumerweg. The notes represented a thousand crowns.

"Take them, little goose-girl,"
said the duke; "your ship has come
in. This will be your dowry."

An icy shiver ran up and down
Gretchen's spine, a shiver of wonder, delight, terror. A thousand crowns! A fortune!

"Hold out your hand," requested Herbeck. One by one he laid the notes on the goose-girl's hand.
"This is only a just reward for being kind and gentle to the unfortunate."

"And I shall add to it another thousand," said Hildegard. "Give them to me, father."

In all, this fortune amounted to
little more than four hundred dollars; but to Gretchen, frugal and thrifty, to whom a single crown was a large sum, to her it represented wealth. She was now the richest girl in the lower town. Dreams of kaleidoscopic variety flew through her head. Little there was, however, of jewels and gowns. This vast sum would be the buffer between her and hunger while she pursued the one great ambition of her life—music. She tried to speak, to thank them, but her voice was gone. Tears sprang into her eyes.

She had the power to do no more than weep.

The duke was the first to relieve
the awkwardness of the moment.

"Count, has it not occurred to you that we stand in the presence
of two very beautiful young women?"

Herbeck scrutinized Gretchen with care; then he compared her with the princess. The duke was right.
The goose-girl was not a whit the inferior of the princess. And the thing which struck him with most
force was that, while each possessed
a beauty individual to herself, it
was not opposite, but strangely
alike.

The goose-girl had returned to her gloomy Krumerweg, the princess
had gone to her apartments alone.
Herbeck went to his cabinet. The duke was alone. For a long period
he stood before the portrait of his wife. The beauties of his courtship trooped past him; for God had given to the grand duke of Ehrenstein that which he denies most of us, high or low, a perfect love.

"Always, always, dear heart," he whispered, "in this life and in the life to come. To love, what is the sickle of death?"

He passed on to his secretary and opened a drawer. He laid a small bundle on the desk and untied the string. One by one he ranged the articles; two little yellow shoes, a little cloak trimmed with ermine.
There had been a locket, but that
was now worn by her highness.

CHAPTER XI.

The Socialists.

Hermann Breuner lived in the granite lodge, just within the eastern gates of the royal gardens. He was a widower and shared the
ample lodge with the undergardeners
and their families. He lived with them; but signally apart. They gave him as much respect as if he had been the duke himself. He was a lonely, taciturn man, deeply concerned with his work, and a botanical student of no mean order. No
comrade helped him pass away an evening in the chimney-corner, pipe
in hand and good cheer in the mug.
This isolation was not accidental, it was Hermann's own selection. He was a man of brooding moods, and there was no laughter in his withered heart, though the false sound of
it crossed his lips at infrequent
intervals.

He adjusted his heavy spectacles
and held the note slantingly toward the candle. A note or a letter was a singular event in Hermann's life.
Not that he looked forward with eagerness to receive them, but that there was no one existing who cared enough about him to write. This note left by the porter of the Grand Hotel moved him with surprise. It requested that he present himself at eight o'clock at the office of the hotel and ask to be directed to the room of Hans Grumbach.

"Now, who is Hans Grumbach? I never knew or heard of a man of that name."

Nevertheless, he decided to go.
Certainly this man Grumbach did not urge him without some definite purpose. He laid down his pipe, reached for his hat and coat—for in the lodge he generally went about in his shirt-sleeves—and went over to the hotel. The concierge, who knew Hermann, conducted him to room
ten on the entresole. Hermann knocked. A voice bade him enter.
Ah, it was the German-American,
whose papers had puzzled his excellency.

"You wished to see me, Herr Grumbach?"

"Yes," said Grumbach, offering a chair.

Hermann accepted the courtesy with dignity. His host drew up another chair to the opposite side of the reading-table. The light overhead put both faces in a semi-shadow.

"You are Hermann Breuner," began Grumbach.

"Yes."

"You once had a brother named Hans."

Hermann grew rigid in his chair.
"I have no brother," he replied, his voice dull and empty.

"Perhaps not now," continued
Grumbach, "but you did have."

Hermann's head drooped. "My God, yes, I did have a brother; but he was a scoundrel."

Grumbach lighted a cigar. He did not offer one to Hermann, who would have refused it.

freshing and varied of all musical programs is rendered by this popular orchestra. In addition to being skilled musicians every one is thoroughly alive to the occasion and puts her very heart into the work. The results are always most pleasing.

From the vigorous and often heroic splendors of a grand ensemble production the audience is whisked off on the wings of some soothing vocal duet or charmed by the inexpressible beauty of a trio of flute, viola and violin. Then, in a twinkling, a quartet appears and voice or instrumental, it will touch the heart.

One of the number is a charming vocal soloist and is always in demand for more time than she can devote to a program. One is a flutist bearing the distinction of being without a peer in America. One is a violin master rendering classy selections and bearing many honors.

ASK MARKING OF "BLACK" CHANNEL

Motorboat Club Makes Application to Secretary of War for Improvements Here

Officers of the La Crosse Motorboat club have written the secretary of war asking that the channel of Black river, cleaned out a couple of years ago and opened for navigation, be marked with buoys, sign boards and barrels to make navigation of the stream possible.

It is announced that the original markings put out were either stolen or drifted away. The present low stage of water reveals many obstructions still remaining in the channel of the river and without proper guide signs it is practically impossible for a motorboat to make the trip to Onalaska without danger of striking snags and running into low water. It is desired that the government make the desired improvements in order that the original purpose in opening the river to navigation as far as Onalaska may not be lost through the non-existence of the proper markings for the boats.

STEINER-HAIDEN

The marriage of Miss Hilda Steiner and W. C. Haiden took place Wednesday evening at the Norwegian Lutheran church, corner of Sixth and Division streets, in the presence of a large number of friends of the contracting parties. The ring service was used and was performed by Rev. H. G. Magelssen.

Miss Bessie Steiner was maid of honor and Albert Steiner acted as best man. The bridesmaids were the Misses Emma Haiden sister of the groom and Alme Lee, and Sylvia Magelssen was the flower girl. Messrs. Frank Haiden and Oscar Engaas acted as ushers.

The church was prettily decorated with palms and ferns. The wedding march was played by Miss Tillie Lelms who presided at the organ.

The bride wore a gown of cream messaline satin and carried bride's roses. The maid of honor was gowned in blue silk mull and Miss Lee wore a white silk mull and Miss Emma Haiden an embroidered dress.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride 1726 Ferry street, where a wedding supper was served. The bride's table was decorated with smilax and white and blue and overhead hung a large wedding bell. The other tables were decorated in white and red.

About thirty-five guests were in attendance at the wedding. Those from out of the city were Mrs. James A. Brown of Missoula, Mont., and

A MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

Gains 12 Pounds on Change of Food

When a change in food can rebuild a man 77 years of age, it is evidence that there is some value in a knowledge that can discriminate in the selection of proper food to rebuild the body. A physician attending a California man 77 years old, told him that death from old age would soon claim him. He suffered from general weakness and debility.

An old lady advised him to quit coffee and drink Postum and to eat Grape-Nuts food every morning. He took the advice, and has gained 12 pounds. Says he is as well as he ever was, and can take long trips in the mountains, which he had been unable to do for a long time.

There is a reason for this; in the first place, coffee acts as a direct nerve destroyer on many highly organized people, both young and old, and many people haven't the knowledge to select nourishment, healthful, rebuilding food.

Both Postum and Grape-Nuts are made from selected parts of the field grains that contain delicate particles of phosphates of potash and albumen. These two elements combine in the human body to quickly rebuild the gray matter in the brain and in the nerve centers throughout the body. Direct, sure, and certain results come from their use and can be proven by any person who cares to make the trial.

WEDDING RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. William Roth, the young couple who were married at St. James church Tuesday morning, were given a reception at Nicholson-Scott hall Tuesday evening, which was attended by about 250 guests. Promptly at 8 o'clock the Yeomen orchestra played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bride and groom with a little flower girl on each side led the grand march which formed a continuous circle around the hall after which the guests sat down to partake of a bounteous supper which was in charge of the Yeomen young ladies' drill team of which Miss Michaels, the bride, was a member. The hall was profusely decorated with palms and cut flowers and trailing vines, intertwined with roses while a huge white bell was suspended from the center of the ceiling with wreaths of smilax over the bride's table in the center of which was a large wedding cake and around which were seated the bride and groom bridesmaid, maid of honor, groomsmen and flower girls. Chas. Willey acted as toastmaster and toasts were given by Dr. Burritt, Mrs. Grove, Gus Rose, Jas. M. Murray, Mrs. Lee, Jake Becker and Mrs. Vandrashke, the bride and groom and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Roth, parents of the groom. The bride was beautifully gowned in Japanese silk with bead and pearl trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor and bridesmaid were the Misses Sophie and Leona Michaels, sisters of the bride, who wore canary color and gaslight green Tussah silk gowns with lace and applique trimmings, carried Marguerites and sweet peas. Raymond and Leroy Roth, brothers of the groom, acted as best men. The little flower girls were Vivian Roth and Madeline Lee and wore pink and blue empire gowns of Seco silk with cluny trimmings and sashes.

The groom is a resident of North La Crosse and has long been employed at the Burlington shops. They received many beautiful presents, among which was a leather couch and buffet from the Burlington employees. The young couple will take a trip to Kansas City and Chicago and will be at home to friends after July 10th.

SESSIONS BEGIN AT NORMAL MONDAY

No Summer Institutes will Be Held Because of Superior Facilities Here

There will be no summer institute in La Crosse county this summer. The new certification law has banished the old style summer institute. In lieu of the summer school there will be summer sessions at all the state normal schools including the local institution. Those preparing to teach may attend these sessions. The local normal school starts the summer course, offering the requisite six weeks' session, Monday, June 27. Although teachers who have taught successfully for eight months are not required to attend, Superintendent Oltman is anxious that all who are in a position to take advantage of the opportunity to increase their teaching qualifications as well as their earning capacities, attend the summer school.

The teacher's examinations will be held at West Salem July 25 and 26 for the third grade branches, at Bangor, July 28 and 29, for the same branches, and at the local normal school building August 8, 9 and 10 for all the grades.

The work at the sessions will begin at 8 o'clock in the morning.

TEACHERS PRESENT BIRD WITH A CHAIR

To show the esteem in which they hold Prof. John P. Bird, who this June retires from a long service as superintendent of the city schools, the teachers of the city last night presented him with a large, handsome leather cushioned, oaken chair and a beautiful reading lamp. A popular subscription was taken among the teachers of the schools and the money invested in the presents.

Shortly before supper last night, Mr. Greenwood, a personal friend of the professor, appeared at the residence and invited him to take a ride in his automobile and incidentally take supper with him. Mr. Bird accepted and during his absence the presents were taken to the house. Upon his return he was greeted by Prof. L. P. Benetz, who succeeds to the office of superintendent, and Prof. F. H. Fowler and N. S. Donaldson, who presented him with the tokens of esteem.

ASSESSMENT DUE; MONEY IS NEEDED

Secretary J. L. Utermoehl of the La Crosse Industrial association announces that the second assessment is due and stockholders are urged to send in the amounts not later than Monday or Tuesday of next week. The assessment was due March 1, but the time was extended to May 15. A number are still unpaid and stockholders are urged to attend to this matter as early as possible. Up to this time $26,000 has been invested, out of which two local concerns have been assisted and allowed to branch out and one new factory has been brought to the city.

GUARDS AGAINST DANGER OF FOURTH

Mayor O. J. Sorensen has issued the following order relating to the use of firecrackers and other explosives:
"I desire to call the attention of the general public to the prevailing carelessness in the use of firecrackers and other explosives on and about the Fourth of July.
"We are having an extraordinarily dry period and there is very great danger of fire being caused by the careless use of firecrackers and fireworks.
"I would suggest to the merchants and dealers in firecrackers, fireworks and other explosives that they take concerted action in the matter of not offering these goods for sale before July 1. This will give ample time before the Fourth of July to dispose of their stock and accommodate the general public. If the goods are not sold they will not be used and a great annoyance to the people will be prevented and the danger of property loss by fire reduced. I do not desire to impose any hardship upon anyone, but unless I have the cooperation of the people in an effort to have a more sane observance of our national holiday I will use every legal means at my command to force a strict compliance with existing ordinances of the city as well as the laws of the state in the use of firecrackers, fireworks and other explosives."
ORI J. SORENSON, Mayor.

INSANITY DEFENSE FOR WIFE SLAYER

ready at any time. The interview with his father and brother late last night when they told him they would stand by him, had strengthened his nerves.

Father Has Letters

Judge Paul Charlton, the young man's father, was an early arrival in Hoboken. He brought with him two letters which he carefully guarded. They were received from Porter Charlton after he reached Italy with his wife and according to Judge Charlton were incoherent and peculiar and altogether different from any other letters received from the youth before his marriage. The elder Charlton said the letters would go a long way to prove that his son was insane and had been ever since he was married.

Quarrel With Father

It developed today that Judge Charlton met his son's wife in a New York hotel immediately after they were married. He called on her at Porter's invitation and questioned Mrs. Charlton regarding stories he had heard about her past. The result was a quarrel between father and son and it was partly because of this that the couple decided to go abroad for a time.

"To my mind," said Judge Charlton today, "the most convincing proof that my son is insane is the fact that he returned to this country in the manner that he did. His every action since he was placed under arrest shows that he is not responsible. He has talked with everyone he has met; there has been little sense in many of his statements and when he was told that I was coming here to aid him he said: 'How flattering,' and his letters to me since his marriage were filled with extravagant statements that would never have come from a man of sound sense."

"The report that my son's wife gave him the money to go abroad is untrue. He asked me for money and I let him have it after he informed me of his marriage last March."

Judge Charlton refused to discuss the rumor that his son's attorney would fight extradition. He stated that whatever action was taken would not be made public in advance but intimated that there would be a legal struggle from the start.

Scott Demands Punishment

While the relatives of Porter Charlton were rallying to his defense, Captain Henry Harrison Scott, U. S. A., who was responsible for the capture was preparing to aid the Italian authorities in punishing the murderer of his sister. He came over from New York early and conferred with the Italian representatives and turned over to them the letter he had received from young Charlton asking him to send the notifications of his wedding to certain friends. Scott declared that his letter contained considerable detail, that it was coherent in every sentence and would offset letters Judge Charlton planned to produce to show that his son was insane.

Captain Scott declared that he was not actuated by any desire for revenge in running down Charlton but that he wanted to see justice done. He has already taken steps to have Mrs. Scott Charlton's body brought to this country for burial in the family plot in San Francisco.

According to Captain Scott, the money with which the Charltons set up their establishment on the shores of Lake Como had been received by the Italian authorities.

And the sum of all this is—come and enjoy the things. They are here to sell, but nobody asks you to buy them. If you are a critic, collector, connoisseur, you are welcome, if you are not, and merely have a fancy for beautiful things, you are just as welcome.

ORGANIZE AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

Permanent Association will Be Formed at Public Meeting Soon to Be Called

Plans are under way to organize a permanent association to fight against tuberculosis and to bring about the passage of an ordinance providing for the employment of a special physician to have charge of the health department of the city. A meeting will be called in a short time of all the societies, religious and otherwise.

This decision was reached yesterday afternoon at a meeting held in Mayor Sorensen's office, which was attended by John L. Utermoehl, secretary of the board of trade; Dr. Harvey Dee Brown of Milwaukee, field secretary of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis society; L. F. Easton, Mrs. W. R. Finch, C. H. Schweizer, Mayor Ori J. Sorensen, John Kindley, E. S. Hebbard and Dr. C. Christiansen.

The following resolution was adopted at the meeting:

"Resolved, that the chairman of the joint committee be and is hereby requested to call a meeting of three delegates to be elected by the following organizations and societies, to wit: The Board of Trade of La Crosse, The La Crosse County Medical Society, Board of Education, Twentieth Century Club, Pastors' Union, Humane Society, Common Council, Catholic Charities, County Board of Supervisors, Health Department of the city of La Crosse, Trades and Labor Council and any other civic societies or organizations whose assistance may be helpful, for the purpose of further considering the recommendations of the report of the tuberculosis investigation and forming a permanent organization, and taking such other action as may be deemed advisable."

ceived by Mrs. Charlton from her former husband, Neville Castle, who, on securing a divorce from her settled a large amount on her in lieu of alimony. This statement takes issue with the declaration of Judge Paul Charlton that he furnished the money.

And Now "They Say—"

OMAHA, Neb., June 24.—Porter Charlton was well known in Omaha as a boy, living here until he was 15 years old. Many stories of the boy's early life here were re-told today.

One story is told of how young Charlton and his two brothers locked a small boy in a big drygoods box and then set fire to it. Neighbors prevented the imprisoned lad from burning to death.

Another time young Charlton jumped into a milk wagon standing on the street, drove away and did not show up for 12 hours. The milk man was nearly prostrated.

Judge Charlton, the boy's father, one time thought he would teach his son a lesson. He had the boy arrested for one of his pranks. The police kept young Charlton in a cell for a day. Then the father thought the boy had had his lesson but when he went to get him, the lad was so in love with the jail that he refused to leave and had to be taken home bodily.

Young Charlton had the most engaging manners with visitors at the Charlton home, being polite and courteous. It was only when outside that his mania for unusual stunts seemed to assert itself.

Expect Extradition

COMO, Italy, June 24.—The Italian judicial authorities today took the preliminary steps for the extradition of Porter Charlton, murderer of his wife, who was arrested in Hoboken, N.J. The feeling is strong here that the demand for extradition will be complied with. The news of Charlton's arrest caused a tremendous sensation here. If Charlton changes his mind about entering no defense it is believed here that he can escape with a light sentence, on the ground of provocation, lack of premeditation or possibly insanity.

Under Constant Guard

When Charlton was taken to the jail in Jersey City he was searched and after the data concerning him had been recorded he was put in a cell where he can be under constant watch of the guards. His attorney had a short talk with him and he was also visited by his father and brother.

Extradition Assured

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—A dispatch was received by the department of justice from Recorder McGovern at Hoboken this afternoon, stating that Porter Charlton was held in custody and asking the pleasure of the department in his case. Attorney General Wickersham is out of the city but from opinions expressed at the department today it is believed that the extradition of Charlton will be urged.

MILK DEALERS MAY RAISE THE PRICE

Milkmen announce today that under the present conditions it is impossible to furnish milk at seven cents per quart, the price now paid, and unless there is rain soon, the price will be increased to eight cents. The pastures are dry and many dealers are obliged to feed hay and grain. Seller Brothers this afternoon announced that no meeting of milkmen has been called but a conference may be called at any time to discuss the question of raising prices.

The La Crosse Merchants Protective association will also hold its picnic at Winona on August 3, the excursion to be run on the steamer J. S.

BOAT STOLEN AT SPEAR'S LIVERY

J. W. Spear, proprietor of the skiff livery below the bridge, reports to the police that one of his best skiffs has been stolen. All towns down river have been notified by wire, in an effort to apprehend the thieves. The Bell-Singer launch, while coming from below Brownsville, saw the skiff with five occupants, the men holding cane poles over the water to make a pretense of fishing, while the launch passed them. There were no lines on their poles, and Mr. Singer thinking this peculiar reported the matter to Spear. Mr. Spear declares the party who rented the boat had had it for several days previous, and had been fishing near the foot of Cass street.

A busy man hasn't much use for one who isn't.

HEAT CONTINUES WITHOUT CHANGE

The temperature today was about the same as yesterday and the day before, the thermometer at the weather bureau this afternoon recording 95 degrees. This is the fourth day that the temperature has been above 94 degrees. The indications for tomorrow are for continued fair weather and no change in temperature. No rain is in sight, although a local shower is probable.

Maximum temperatures ranging from 90 to 98 degrees are recorded from Texas to North Dakota and in the upper Mississippi Valley. It was somewhat cooler this morning from North Dakota to the lake region and New England states. Elsewhere the temperature has remained stationary or risen slightly. Showers and local thunderstorms have occurred in Montana, the Dakotas and Canadian northwest and light to heavy showers in the gulf states.

Four Driven Insane

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 24.—With four persons driven insane by the heat, one death and several prostrations in St. Louis, the heat wave which has held forth in this section for the last five days reached a climax today.

The insane persons at Sterling, Ill., are two men and two women. They were taken to the asylum in Watertown. Rain is expected here before night.

Three Die in Chicago

CHICAGO, June 24.—The heat wave here was broken by cool lake breezes today, but three more deaths were reported, making a total of 40 dead as the result of the hot weather of the last two weeks.

DENIES MONEY WAS ASKED FOR PASSAGE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 24.—W. R. Rawleigh, the patent medicine man of Freeport, Ill., who was reported in a Warren, Ill., newspaper as having said $15,000 was demanded of him for the passage of a certain bill in the last general assembly testified before the Sangamon grand jury today that nothing of the kind ever happened to him and that he never told H. C. Gann, editor of the paper, anything of the kind.

K. Knapp, general counsel of the Illinois Steel company, testified that so far as he knew no money or undue influence was used in the legislature to secure the passage of the made land bills whereby the steel company was permitted to buy the state large tracts of land along the South Chicago Lake front. T. J. Hyman, secretary-treasurer of the company was excused from appearing but Prosecutor Burke will have the company's books gone over in Chicago.

WIARD ATTACKS LA CROSSE POLICE
Declares that Local Officers Are Not Doing Their Duty Satisfactorily

In an address delivered before a fair sized audience at the old Y. M. C. A. hall last evening, Owen O. Wiard, president of the Good Government League of the United States told of some of the evils he found in La Crosse while making an investigation several weeks ago. Among those present at the meeting were the mayor, chief of police, aldermen, clergymen, professional men, business men and women, all interested in what Mr. Wiard would have to say.

Although it was announced that the speaker would tell about the conditions in La Crosse, he spent the greater portion of his time talking about conditions elsewhere and what he had done in other cities.

Coming down to local conditions, however, the speaker said La Crosse is better than other cities in some respects and worse in other respects, but, he said, there is nothing here that the cities need be terribly ashamed of. The evils that exist, he said, may be remedied if the people show that they are with those who desire to enforce the laws.

Speaking of the local police department, the speaker said: "I found police officers during the night, walking the streets in pairs, because they were afraid to be alone. If we have policemen on the force who are afraid to be out at night, put them to bed. Four policemen gathered on one corner and had a pleasant visit for about an hour. When they do this the public is paying for service it does not get. When two policemen go together you are paying twice as much as you should and when four officers stand on the corner at a time you are paying four times as much as the service is worth."

"I found policemen drinking while on duty and saw one in a house of prostitution with a woman at either hand. Now let me say that in order to get good police officers the city must pay good wages. It is difficult to get good men at small wages and this applies to all other city officers."

The Public Dance

Mr. Wiard said he saw public dances in progress in this city in halls which were connected with inside stairways, leading to saloons. At these dances women of questionable character are allowed to congregate and associate with the boys and girls of the city.

Stalls and wine rooms were found by the speaker and gambling houses running wide open where the boys and men may play. The speaker said the slot machines are running in many saloons and under the counters of cigar stores and other places. These he termed the kindergarten of gambling and he said they were more dangerous than the roulette wheel because they were patronized by boys, while the roulette wheel is played by the hardened gambler, who is beyond recall.

The speaker said cigarettes were being sold in the city contrary to state law and he then referred to the "red light" district and other vices that are running in La Crosse. He said he had gathered evidence that may be used at any time, should the officials desire to prosecute the offending parties.

FORMER LA CROSSE WOMAN IS DEAD

Mrs. Elizabeth J. White, widow of Elgin G. White, who died in La Crosse thirteen years ago, passed away at her home in Sparta Tuesday afternoon, her death coming very suddenly, as the result of a hemorrhage and epileptic fits.

Miss Elizabeth Fish, daughter of the late E. R. Fish, was born at Winfield, Sauk county, in 1858, and moved to Sparta with her parents about 43 years ago. Mr. Fish locating on a farm just west of the city, which he still owned at the time of his death, about a year ago. She was married to Mr. White in 1885, and located at La Crosse, making this city their home until the time of his death. Shortly after, Mrs. White and the six children moved to Sparta.

Deceased is survived by six children, Grace, Nora and Ada, who have been staying at home, and Harry, Martha and Cora, who have been working in Woodstock, Ill.

The funeral was held at Sparta yesterday afternoon.

FLAW IN POSTAL BILL
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—When President Taft signs the bill for the establishment of postal savings banks it will be a law in full force. It will be some time, however, before the people will be able to take their savings to the postoffice with the confident assurance that under Uncle Sam's protection the money will be there when they choose to call for it.

The surprising discovery made is that the house bill which was passed by the senate is minus any provision fixing the time when it shall take effect. The intention of congress was to make the law effective at some time far enough in the future to give the board of trustees opportunity to perfect the system.

RUSHING DOUBLE TRACKING WORK

Nine Work Trains Employed by the Milwaukee Road Laying Steel North of La Crosse

Nine work trains and several hundred men are now employed in laying the second track on the Milwaukee road from Dakota to Wabasha. All the bridges being constructed by Engineer Herlihy will be completed by July 1 and a portion of the track will be ready for use by July 4. McDougal and Yale, contractors, have a large force of men at work laying the road bed for the tracks. Much machinery is also used in this work. The rails are fast being laid and it is expected that the service to the coast will be started on August 15 as previously announced. Gravel is being taken from the sand pit at Minnesota City and brought to the places of work. The two dredges are located near La Moille and Whitman pumping sand which is used in the road bed.

The work is being rushed rapidly. The men employed are as a rule skilled in the labor and with the exception of the foreigners do not have to be taught the work. Everything at the present time indicates that the work will be completed in order to start the Pacific coast service on schedule time.

ROOSEVELT WON OVER TO AUTO

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 24.—It has taken ten years to accomplish it but the victory is complete. Leaving his native land a firm advocate of the horse as the best means of travel, Col. Roosevelt returned to America wavering in his loyalty. Since his arrival at Oyster Bay he has been completely won over to the charms of high power automobiles. Hereafter the train schedule of the Long Island railroad will have no terrors to the chief citizen. He will be his own engineer and will use a big racing car to journey between Sagamore Hill and the editorial offices of the Outlook.

There is rejoicing in "Gasoline Row." During all of the time the colonel was chief executive at Albany, vice president and president at Washington automobile agents were persons non grata. He was the friend of the horse and the horse was his friend and that was the last word. While touring Europe Col. Roosevelt was compelled to utilize a gasoline propelled vehicle to keep his many engagements and he was thus forced to notice its advantages over the horse drawn carriage. When he reached his home on Saturday, he found a high powered car and expert chauffeur at his disposal and he wavered. Yesterday he succumbed when he made the run to New York city in the car and today as an indication that the surrender was complete, it is reported that several autos, ranging from the small touring run-about to the high powered car will be purchased by the colonel in the near future.

The only men worrying over the colonel's new car are the country constables through whose hallways he will run enroute to New York. If they interfere with the popular idol should he break the speed laws, they fear it will cost them their jobs when the stand for re-election. If they do not interfere they will be in danger of defeat as inefficient.

According to the chauffeur who brought the colonel into town yesterday he was repeatedly admonished to hurry and the faster the car went the better pleased the mighty hunter seemed.

JUNKET PLANNED OVER GREEN BAY

Board of Trade and Jobbers May Go to Merrillan Return on Northwestern

If the route laid out by Secretary J. L. Utermoehl of the board of trade is adopted, the proposed junket will be run over the Green Bay road as far as Merrillan, thence over the Northwestern road to Baraboo or Madison and return to La Crosse over the same line. At the last meeting of the board of trade this matter was referred to the committee on excursions and conventions, but the committee has not held a meeting, waiting for a proposed route as arranged by the secretary. The plan will be referred to the committee and the La Crosse Manufacturers & Jobbers' club will appoint a similar committee to act with the board committee.

The board and the jobbers have decided to abandon all excursions to celebrations and other events held in small surrounding towns as has been the custom, but instead take a junket for two or three days and visit a number of towns.

Another route has been planned into Minnesota from here to Austin, Minn., on the Southern Minnesota road, thence back to Isomours and thence over the Preston branch to La Crosse. In view of the fact, however, that the local manufacturers and jobbers have frequently visited towns along these lines, it is likely that the Wisconsin trip to Merrillan will be adopted and carried out.

MOTORBOAT CLUB MAY PULL PILES

In Mississippi Slough, that body of water between Isle la Plume and the Wisconsin shore, there are a number of piles and obstructions which render navigation dangerous, due to the removal of the old bridge. The pilings were sawed off at the low water mark during the winter, and any one not familiar with the waters seeking to run through the channel is taking chances of running onto one of the sunken piles. The Motorboat club has been negotiating for the removal of these obstructions in order that members mooring their boat-houses in that locality may have free and safe access. The cost of the work will be considerable as the pile stumps will have to be "pulled."

JOSEPH WEBBER GETS NINETY DAYS

Joseph Webber, porter at the barber shop of Joseph Schwabenbauer on lower Pearl street, was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail by Judge Brindley yesterday afternoon, being found guilty on the charge of the larceny of a small sum of money from the barber shop. ARTHUR LEVINS IS WEDDED AT TOMAH

TOMAH, Wis., June 24.—Miss Cora Finger, a well known young lady of Tomah, daughter of Fred

Finger, was married Wednesday to Mr. Arthur Levins of La Crosse, a conductor on the Milwaukee road. The wedding was an exceedingly pretty affair, taking place at St. Mary's Catholic church at 10 o'clock a. m.

The bridal procession, headed by a number of young ladies, intimate friends of the bride, who took front seats, marched to the altar to the beautiful strains of the pipe organ, where Father Wurst performed the ceremony. The couple was attended by Miss May Finger, sister of the bride, and Miss Gertrude Frish, the bride's cousin, also two young men, friends of the groom. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Sherman house. The bride was gown in white silk messaline and wore a veil; flowers were in profusion. Mr. and Mrs. Levins left on No. 6 for an extended wedding trip, after which they will return to Tomah, making their home on Kilbourne avenue, with the grandmother of the bride.

The following were among the guests from out of town: Mr. Joe Frish of Fond du Lac; Mr. and Mrs. G. Frish, and two daughters, Gertrude and Evelyn of Madison; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Finger, two sons and daughter May, from Hustler; Mr. Youlman of Reedsville, and the mother of the groom from La Crosse.

Mr. Carl Reisenauer, and Miss Inez Parry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Purdy, both well known and popular young people of this city, were united in marriage, on Thursday, at the home of the bride's parents, and their many friends extend congratulations.

Mrs. J. H. Acker, a former resident of this city, died at Columbus, on Saturday night, June 11, from paralysis. She has a large number of friends here who sadly mourn her loss. She left Tomah a year or two ago to reside with relatives in Kilbourne, but some time before her death had been placed in the Columbus sanatorium, thinking to better her health there. A number from Tomah attended the funeral at Kilbourne.

Master Wesley David, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Vanloon, died June 10th at his home just north of the city of Tomah. He was born Jan. 21, 1893, and has always lived with his parents. The funeral was held from the German M. E. church, with interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

CONSTIPATION MUNYON'S PAW-PAW PILLS

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour; they do not gripe; they do not weaken, but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. In my opinion constipation is responsible for most ailments. There are thirty-two feet of human bowels, which is really a sewer pipe. When this pipe becomes clogged, the whole system becomes poisoned, causing biliousness, indigestion and impure blood, which often produces rheumatism and kidney ailments. No woman who suffers with constipation or any liver complaint can expect to have a clear complexion, or enjoy good health.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weakening; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope, they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They school the bowels to act without physic. Price 25 cents.

My Corns don't
Hurt A BitTired, Aching, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet, Corns, Calluses
and Bunions, TIZ Cures Right Off

Say good-bye to your corns the very first time you use TIZ. You will never know you have a corn, bunion or callous, or sweaty, tired, swollen, aching feet any more. It's just wonderful the way the pain vanishes. Rub the corn—hammer it with your fist if you wish—no more pain after TIZ than if there had never been a blemish on your foot. Doesn't that sound good to you? Doesn't it? Then read this.

"The corns on either of my toes were as large as the tablets you make to cure them. Today there is no sign of corns on either foot and no soreness. It's an up-to-date Godsend.—Sam. A. Hoover, Progress, N. C."

Just use TIZ. It's not like anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

WATSON PITCHES GOOD BALL

Allows but a Few Scattered Hits; Bunched Swats in Eighth Round Score
Three Runs

Bunched hits off Yardmaster Brookie of Sleepy Eye, Minn., now hurling for the Winona aggregation of horsehide heavies and two double plays in the eighth and the ninth innings yesterday won for the Outcasts by the score of 4 to 0. It was a good game and many times the hurlers were worked out of tight holes by good work on the part of the rest of the players.

Winona looked dangerous in the eighth and the ninth innings and a tie up looked easy when men got as far as third with none out. Double plays did the work, however, and the lightning like fielding was all that saved the Outcasts. In the ninth round the local team nearly pulled off a triple play. Dang was on third and Killian was sleeping near the initial corner when Brookie slapped one out which looked good for a hit. Everybody started the advance game from sack to sack but Wals deftly speared the pesky pellet, putting out the railroad hurler, caught Killian before he could return to first and Ward nearly succeeded in catching Dang at third. A moment later Graves struck out and cut out all chance of Winona scoring.

Hurlers Work Good. Watron, the warm weather man, was in the best of form and allowed but five scattered hits, none of which resulted dangerously. He also fielded his position in good shape, getting into a double play which pulled him out of a bad hole in the latter part of the contest.

Brookie, the yardmaster railroader and pitcher of ability, did some pretty hurling also. In fact both men worked as though the big scout was still in the stand. La Crosse got a hit in the first and one in the second. After this the railroad sidetracked all efforts to hit anything safe and not a semblance of a wallop came till the eighth, when the Outcasts managed to poke out three of them.

The Scoring. La Crosse's first run came in the second session. Wals poked out a pretty one over the third sack for two bases and scored when Goodman muffed Kuehn's torrid drive to the sack. Bunney was safe at first. There was no more scoring until the eighth when three more counts were added just to pocket the game in a real handsome and safe manner. Ward started with a hit down to Davey which the shortstop was unable to handle in time to catch the first sacker at the bag. Doll was hit by the batter taking one on the clothing and Ward went to second. Safford poked out a sacrifice hit to first base which Koepping speared and all hands moved up a sack. Zalusky then grabbed his big black war cluo and catching the ball on the nose slammed it to center field for a pretty single, scoring Ward and Doll. Klein struck out and Wals drove out another to the fence, getting two sacks on the poke. Kuehn struck out. The official score:

"JEFF PERFECT"
SAYS MURPHY

Veteran Athletic Trainer of Yale and Pennsylvania
Enthusiastic; Sullivan
Barred Out

(By Max Balthaser.)

JEFFRIES' TRAINING CAMP. Moana Springs, Near Reno, Nev. June 24.—As though there had been no interruption in his training, Jeffries continued his work today. The rare air of this altitude showed little effect on the lungs of the big fellow and he declared he felt the change only slightly.

Mike Murphy, the veteran trainer, formerly with Yale and now at Pennsylvania, who yesterday watched Jeffries at his work and had a splendid view of the big fellow stripped in his trainers' hands, was enthusiastic out of about Jeffries' condition. "I have handled thousands of athletes," said Murphy, "and I know when a man is physically fit. I am frank to say that I came here a skeptic. I did not believe a man out of the ring five years and leading the kind of a life I had heard Jeffries was leading, could ever get into shape. I came here expecting to see a big, fat man, who panted and grunted as he worked. I found a man without an ounce of excessive weight, lean as an athlete should be, and with the most marvelous physique a human being ever had. I can say but one thing about Jim Jeffries—he is perfect."

The big fellow's handlers accepted Murphy's statement with joy. They knew Jeffries was in wonderful shape and it did them a lot of good to have such a man as Murphy say so.

Jeffries refused today to discuss his action in barring John L. Sullivan from his training quarters. When Sullivan appeared the trainers told him Jeffries was on the road though the big fellow was in his cottage. Corbett appeared in Jeffries' stead and told Sullivan the former champion would not see him or shake hands with him. Corbett, in great anger, charged Sullivan with declaring in Boston that the fight was to be a fake. Sullivan denied the charge which Corbett reiterated hotly and it was thought for a time that the two former champions might square off but the wordy war soon ended and Sullivan left the camp.

THOMPSON WINS THE
GRAND AMERICAN

CHICAGO, June 24.—Riley Thompson of Calaisville, Mo., winner of the Grand American handicap shoot at the Chicago Gun club, is today suddenly lifted from the rank of an amateur to that of an expert.

Thompson, of whom very little had been heard before the shooting circles, established a new record for the gun classic and tied the world's record by smashing one hundred targets straight, twenty of which were doubles.

Thompson was not the only shooter to win fame at the traps yesterday. Squad 3, composed of Jay Graham, of Long Lake, Ill., J. W. Garret, of Colorado Springs, Colo., Harvey Lixon, of Orango, Mo., Fred Ellet, of Keltsburg, Ill., and H. D. Freeman of Atlanta Ga., established a new world's trap record by breaking 100 straight at twenty yards.

LANGFORD KETCHEL
FIGHT CALLED OFF

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 24.—The Langford-Ketchel fight was called off yesterday afternoon by Tom O'Day, who is associated with Sid Hester in his fight promoting business. O'Day announced that this action was taken because Ketchel had failed to post forfeit.
